

All for the sake of Kung-fu

SIBU, Fri.— 24-year-old Lorne Bernard is so keen in the White Crane Kung-fu that he flew all the way from Canada to SibU to seek lessons from local Kung-fu master.

Lorne has decided to learn White Crane kung-fu from Lee Kian Ka, and the two dined at a local restaurant last night with other students of Mr Lee.

Lorne is a student of political science and White Crane Kung-fu in Canada.

He learned the White Crane style for about 5½ years in Canada under Mr Augustine Ngu, who is originally from SibU.

Lorne came to look for Mr Lee Kian Ka following Augustine's recommendation.

Lorne said he hoped to stay in SibU for approximately three months.

According to him, the White Crane style is becoming well known in Canada, and that Canadians are very interested in Chinese culture including the Kung-fu.

In Canada, White Crane is taught in Montreal in Concordia University and will soon be taught in Toronto.

Lorne last night expressed the hope that more White Crane students in Canada would come to SibU in the future.
